

Obituary
Alice Sysel

Alice Sysel, age 87, of Friend, Neb., passed from this life on October 19, 2007, at the Sunrise Country Manor, Milford with family at her side.

Alice was born in Seward County to William and Agnes (Kratochvil) Brhel on February 23, 1920. She attended country school and graduated from Crete School.

Alice and Eman Sysel, Jr. were married in Wilber, Neb. on September 21, 1943. To this union were born a son who died in infancy and a daughter, LuJean. They were a farm couple and Alice enjoyed helping Eman with the farm operation near Dorchester. She enjoyed the grandchildren very much. After quitting farming in 1982, they remained living in the country until 1986 when they moved to Friend. They enjoyed many happy years in their home in Friend until July 24, 2000, when Eman fell and had to go live at the Friend Manor. They celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary on September 21, 2000. Eman passed away on October 28, 2000. She has remained in her home in Friend until July when she had serious health issues.

Alice was preceded in death by her parents, her husband Eman, an infant son, and a brother, Raymond Brhel.

Her survivors are her daughter and husband, LuJean and William Boller, grandchildren, Brett Boller and Wendy Boller, all of rural Dorchester, sisters, Blanche Tracy, Lincoln, Martha Krupicka, Milford, and brother and wife, Lumir and Delores Brhel of Denton, sisters-in-law, Adele Brhel, Goehner, Ella Karpisek, Wilber, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Funeral services were held at Kuncl Funeral Home, Crete, with Rev. Roger Wolfe, officiating on Monday, October 22, 2007. Delbert Reiss sang the musical selections accompanied by Patricia Butt. Interment was at the Wilber Czech Cemetery. The pallbearers were Melvin Daniel, Gary Brhel, David Brhel, Frank Brhel, Bill Brhel and Les Brhel.
